2nd July 1962] [Sri G. Krishnamoorthy]

the treasury. They retain 15 per cent running the school. The Government pay the teachers salary. The District Educational Officer keeps all the accounts to see that 85 per cent of the school collections is remitted into the treasury. There the teachers are secure. When I brought in the Teacher Protection Bill, it was stated then that they were stable here even without that Bill. There it is quite different from here. Here it is three months' notice for a teacher to go out. In the Kanyakumari District, it is only one month. In spite of this one month's notice, the teachers there are secure, because the Government are paying the salaries of the teachers. They give the increment and also pay the arrears of salary. If this system which I had in mind had been brought into force in this State last year or the year before last, the whole question of agency would have been solved. I am sure the Education Minister would go into these points and see whether there is justice behind these demands and also realise that the few points which the teachers require with regard to their emoluments should be considered. The disparity in allowances as among the teachers under different agencies should be removed. We know the finance of this State. We are not demanding any extra salary now. We are demanding the proper implementation of the scales given in G.O. No. 710, Finance. Then we want proper treatment and payment of allowances on a par with other Government teachers. It is high time the service of the teacher was recognised as national service. If Madras State sets an example that irrespective of the agency, the teachers get the same treatment, it would play the role that it has played up till now. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

MR. CHAIRMAN: The House will now adjourn and meet again at 3 p.m. to-morrow.

The House then adjourned.
